

THE SECRET OF LONESOME COVE STARTS TONIGHT-PAGE SIX

STATE WILL PAY MONEY AND TAKE POSSESSION OF LAND FOR DIXON COLONY

OWNERS OF FARMS BOUGHT FOR EPILEPTIC COLONY WILL GET VOUCHERS ON TUESDAY

STATE OFFICIAL TO TAKE DEEDS

$232,349.67 WILL BE PAID CITI-ZENS OF DIXON AND VICI-NITY ON THAT DATE.

WILL START ON WORK VERY SOON

Considerable Money Will Be Left
From State Appropriation And
Will Be Used in Operations
This Summer.

The last steps toward the purchase of the ground for the State Epileptic Colony north of this city, negotiations for which have been progressing for several months, will be taken at the offices of Dixon & Dixon of this city Tuesday, when the owners of the property which is to be purchased will receive from a representative of the State Board of Administration orders on the Treasurer for amounts they are to receive. In return they will deliver to the representative of the board the deeds of the property, and the State of Illinois will come into possession of the property on which the newest institution is to be erected.

Questions of value and of abstract which have occasioned a great deal of work on the parts of Attorney Penry Dixon, E. B. Raymond and other local men, who have been working on the matter all summer, were finally settled this week, and the board ordered the vouchers issued, and at the same time sent notices to all land owners that payment for the property would be made on Tuesday. The notices were received on Friday, and read:

"You are hereby notified that a representative of the Board of Administration will be at the office on Dixon & Dixon, Attorneys, at Dixon, Illinois, on Tuesday morning at nine o'clock, June 30th, and will remain in said office during the business hours of that day for the purpose of making settlement in the purchase of land required for a State Colony for Epileptics.

This representative will have in his possession, warrants issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts of the State of Illinois for the payments necessary to purchase the land and will deliver these warrants to the land owners upon surrender of deeds in the form prescribed by the Attorney General of the State of Illinois.

As you are one of the owners of this land, please consider this due notice that the State of Illinois will make settlement for the land at the time and place, hereinbefore mentioned.

Very Truly Yours,
Board of Administration,
By James Hyland,
Secretary."

Save $24,789.99.

Under the terms agreed upon by the property owners and the State Board the land necessary for the Colony will cost the State of Illinois, $232,349.67, which is $24,789.99 less than the sum for which the property was offered when the negotiations were first commenced.

On survey of the land, however, it was found that there is a trifle more than twelve acres less than was first estimated in the tract to be purchased.

Start Preliminary Work.

The final steps in the purchase of the land on Tuesday will mean that in all probability the State will commence active work toward the erection of the colony this summer, although it is certain the work can not be completed this year. However, it is more than likely that fences, roads, etc., will be laid out and constructed this year, and it is possible that the land will be plowed for the start of work on the buildings. The following is the list of the names of the owners of the land that has been conveyed to the State of Illinois for the site of the Epileptic Colony together with the number of acres and the consideration paid therefor:

EVIDENCE MISSING FROM STATE OFFICE

DOCUMENTS BEARING IN THE
LA SALLE STREET BANK
CANNOT BE FOUND.

(Associated Press.)

Chicago, Ill., June 27.—Documentary evidence bearing on the failure of the La Salle Street Trust & Savings bank, which evidence is wanted by the Federal and the Cook County authorities has disappeared from the office of State Auditor Brady.

Some of the documents missing is the report of Bank Examiner Rife, who first reported the institution shaky; the report having been submitted to L. L. Bacchus, chief clerk in the office of late auditor McCullough. Rife and Bacchus resigned from the state employ to take positions in the La Salle Street bank, Bacchus becoming its vice president.

Hazel Sunday of Franklin Grove was a shopper in this city yesterday.

U. S. TO HEAR SCORES AS TO BLACKMAILING

Gigantic Graft Alleged Against Heads of Unions.

Chicago, June 27.—Subpoenas for scores of contractors and builders who, it is asserted, can, if they will speak, reveal an amazing system of extortion and graft that yearly brings hundreds of thousands of dollars to the pockets of certain business agents of certain labor unions, were issued by the government, sifting the sensational charges of John J. McLaughlin, state representative and president of the McLaughlin Building Material company. If these employers unite in disclosing evidence they have in their possession, it is said that many prosecutions may develop. These selfsame contractors, too, may admit that during the erection of buildings ranging from small dwellings to towering skyscrapers, they figure always on a certain percentage that they will have to pay certain labor agents to prevent strikers and "walkouts."

One man of high rank in contracting and employers' associations asserted that as much as $100,000 has been paid out in this way one single loop building to continue building.

EXTRA GANGS ON THE C. & N. W. LAID OFF

APPROPRIATION FOR CURRENT MONTH EXHAUSTED.—GANGS
GET TEMPORARY VACATION

Orders were received this morning at the local offices of the North Western to lay off all extra men and section hands in both the signal and track departments, as well as the carpenter gangs, for two days and possibly until the first of the month. All of the regulars on the monthly pay roll continue as usual. The lay-off was on account of the large number of extras who have been employed, the monthly appropriation being exhausted. All day men will resume work as usual next week.

OSHKOSH BEAT STERLING; 5 TO 0

SEVERAL DIXON FANS WITNESSED
GAME AT STERLING
FRIDAY

A number of Dixon fans went to Sterling Friday afternoon, where they witnessed the game between Joe Killian's Oshkosh champions of the Wisconsin-Illinois league, and the Sterling team. The day was a gala-day in Sterling, all of the stores closing for two hours to allow the fans to attend the contest; as Manager Killian is a Sterling fan. Grover Tracey of this city is first sacker for the Oshkosh team, and the Dixon people in attendance at the game gave him a hearty hand at every opportunity. Paddock of Ashton pitched for Sterling and did well against the hard hitting leaguers; but Sterling could do nothing with Pinkerton, the Oshkosh twirler, but three men reaching first. Not a hit was scored off Pinkerton, and Oshkosh won, 5 to 0.

FIFTY STERLING MOOSE HERE

Fifty of the Sterling Moose came to this city by special car Thursday evening, and met in joint session with the local order. They assisted in the ceremonies of initiating ten new members into Dixon organization. Following these an excellent lunch was served and an informal all round good time was enjoyed. It was planned at the meeting last night to have a joint contest for members between the lodges, starting now and ending July 15, the winners of which will be banqueted in their own town by the losers.

Seriously Ill.

Mrs. Nels Pierson, of 301 Cedar Street, is critically ill, the doctors fear for her recovery. She has been a patient sufferer for four years. Herself and family have the sympathy of all their friends.

Paris, June 27.—French sportsmen, thousands of Americans and other foreign followers of the boxing game, gathered in Paris today, for tonight's heavy-weight championship battle, between Jack Johnson, title holder, and Frank Moran, the Pittsburgh slugger, whom many followers think will be able to take the black's measure. Backers of Moran figure that the lively life that Johnson has lead since he bested Jim Jeffries, four years ago, have weakened the champion and that he will not be able to stand the punishment that Moran will give him. Johnson is the favorite, the odds being 3 to 1.

The champion when interviewed, this morning said: "I never felt so sure in all my life. If Moran wins, I will be the first to congratulate him."

From Dying Uncle.

Moran, the hope of the white race, this morning received a message of encouragement from his four sisters in Pittsburgh, and he also received a message from an uncle in Ireland, written on his death bed, in which he had the young Irish-American farewell, and said that he was praying for a victory for his nephew.

Moran, when asked about his prospects, replied, "It will be tough fight, while it lasts, but I don't expect it to last long and I don't expect to be the loser." He added that he expected to be battered up, whether he won or lost.

♦ The Associated Press will supply the Evening Telegraph with the news of the Johnson-Moran prize fight for the heavy-weight championship of the world, in Paris to-night. ♦ We will get the returns, round by round, by wire and cable direct from the ring-side. ♦ Bulletins will be posted at the Evening Telegraph bulletin board in front of Kennedy's Cigar Store, on Galene avenue near First Street, or anyone wishing to know the result of the fight, or now it is progressing, may telephone to No. 489, Kennedy's Cigar Store, where The Evening Telegraph bulletins will be received. ♦ Everybody is welcome to go there or to phone. ### PERJURE THEMSELVES TO EVADE JURY DUTY

Petrus Judge Scores Men Who Swear to "Opinions."

Geneva, Ill., June 27.—Arbused by futile efforts to obtain a jury which is to decide the fate of Anthony Petras, charged with the murder of his former sweetheart, Theresa Hollander, in Aurora, on Feb. 16, Judge Clinton F. Irwin asserted that some of the veniremen were deliberately perjuring themselves to escape service at the trial. Practically no progress was made during the morning and at last Judge Irwin made the following declaration: "Our whole social fabric is being jeopardized by the flippancy with which veniremen perjure themselves simply to escape service here. This is becoming true in many criminal cases. Veniremen assert that they have formed opinions as to the guilt or innocence of the defendant just because they want to get back to their various businesses."

Judge Irwin also issued orders to fail any and every person who tried to evade a jury summons.

It was emphasized that they were not fighting any party. Speaker Clark said to the Delegation: "Woman suffrage is as inevitable as the rising of tomorrow's sun. ### SEVEN INDICTED AS 'JURY FIXERS'

Grand Jury Acts Promptly After Sensational Arrests.

HUGE PLOT MAY BE EXPOSED

Two Bills Charging Conspiracy Are Returned and Bonds of $15,000 Fixed.

John P. Cummings is Principal Witness Against Accused Men—Criminal Court Employee Named.

Chicago, June 27.—Two indictments naming seven alleged "jury fixers" were voted by the June grand jury. They will be returned before Chief Justice Theodore Brentano today.

The indictments are a sequel to the exposure of an alleged jury-tampering gang which is said to have worked in some of the most famous cases in Cook county's criminal history. Two trial attorneys in State's Attorney Hoyne's office are said to have been named in the dictagraph record as having played a part in the "fixing" plot.

Criminal Court Employee Involved.

The men named in the indictment are:

First indictment—Robert E. (Bull) Malone, 347 North Clark street, a so-called "runner" for "hyster" lawyers; Herman Schmitt, deputy clerk of the criminal court, assigned to the court by Judge Charles M. Walker.

Second indictment—Frank (Slicky) McMahon, 52 East Illinois street, criminal court hanger-on; John Shannon, John McCarthy, L. E. Dickenson, an attorney, and a man whose last name is said to be Minerva.

Bonds were fixed at $15,000 each. The men charged with "jury fixing" were arrested in Lincoln park yesterday, where, it is charged, they received money from John P. Cummings in payment for promised "services" to obtain a verdict of not guilty for him in his trial on charges of criminal offense preferred by Dorothy Moore, a nineteen-year-old stenographer.

The true bill contains three counts—conspiracy to obstruct public justice, conspiracy to bribe and conspiracy to bribe a jury. The bonds were fixed at $15,000 each.

Hoyne's Aids Are Involved.

Following the startling revelations made to the grand jury State's Attorney Hoyne began an investigation of his own office, as in a conversation recorded by a dictagraph one of the men indicted is said to have mentioned two assistant state's attorneys, known as trial attorneys, with whom he could "do business."

Sheriff Michael Zimmer started an office inquiry, as two of his force also were named.

The three men indicted were arrested yesterday in the alleged act of accepting bribe money from John P. Cummings. Their indictment followed the telling of his story to the grand jury today, amplified by the testimony of other witnesses, dictagraph records and other evidence.

Cummings Tells of Bribe.
Cummings is said to have told the grand jury he paid Schmitt and Malone $150 in marked bills, part payment of an amount which he was to pay to have the men "fix" the jury in his case. McMahon was implicated in the conspiracy by the making of a perjured affidavit.

WILL PAY BILLS NEXT WEDNESDAY

THEIR MONEY FOR HOLIDAY.

In order that the city employees may have their money to use before Independence Day, which falls one week from today, the city council will pay all bills against the city at an adjourned meeting which will be held next Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. Under the usual arrangements bills against the city would not be paid until Monday, July 6, but the City Fathers are desirous of giving the employees their money for the holiday, and accordingly Monday's regular meeting will be adjourned until Wednesday afternoon to allow the payment of accounts.

Pendergrass, Ga.—Mrs. Della Long, of this place, in a recent letter, says: "For five or six years, I suffered agonies with womanly troubles. Often, I couldn't sit up more than a few minutes at a time, and if I stood on my feet long, I would faint."

DOUBLE HEADER IS SLATED FOR SUNDAY

BRUNSWICKS AND I. N. U. WILL PLAY TWO GAMES TOMORROW AFTERNOON

What's the dope on tomorrow's double header is the question, being asked by many City League fans. Here's the answer. The First of tomorrow's games will be called at two o'clock at which time the baseball lovers of this city will be privileged to see a real pitcher's battle, for tomorrow two of the pitchers in the league are booked for a hot duel. This first game will last seven innings and will be followed immediately by the second game. Null umpires.

Huber for the I. N. U. and Lightner for the Brunswicks, is the pitching order for the first game while Boers, Vaile's new phenom, will meet a new one for the I. N. U., in the second contest. Both games are due to be hot ones as the I. N. U. and Brunswicks will tomorrow decide their standings in the league for another week and possibly longer, and each are anxious to shove the Stars out of the first position.

An extra large attendance is expected tomorrow, owing to the fact that two scraps are booked and also because interest in the city league doings is aroused to its highest pitch now that all teams have weeded their lineups and are settling down to play their best brand of ball.

Both teams in tomorrow's games have been especially groomed for the fight, having had hard practices the entire week, and have their linups strengthened by the addition of several new, but experienced players. The Brunswicks' lineup is especially changed.

DEPORTED A TWO-YEAR-OLD

Governor of Russian Town of Kursk, Sent Baby Away With Strong Escort of Soldiers.

A baby was arrested and by means of a formidable-looking order, properly signed, sealed and delivered, the governor of the town of Kursk, in central Russia, has made himself sufficiently ridiculous to insist upon the solemn deportation, under a stern escort of armed soldiers, of an innocent two-year-old baby boy! The child is the son of a Jewish dentist, M. Kohan. The latter, with his wife, was ordered to leave the town a few days ago. The couple complied with the order, but left their infant son with friends, as he was in too delicate a state of health to travel during the cold weather. Under the pretext that Jewish children must not live without their parents outside a certain prescribed area, the zealous police arrested the baby and ordered the friends of M. Kohan to take immediate steps to send the boy away. M. Kohan's friends asked for a delay so that they might communicate with the parents, but the governor ordered the baby to be sent away under an armed escort comprised of soldiers with fixed bayonets. This implies traveling with criminals in rough conveyances and sleeping in prisons en route until the infant reaches his parents.

HAD THE DOCTORS GUESSING

English Hospital Physicians at Least
Were Willing to Admit They Could Not Diagnose All Cases.

Mr. Roger W. Babson says that in looking up appendicitis cases he learned that in 17 per cent of the operations for that disease the post-mortem examinations showed that the appendix was in perfect condition.

"The whole subject," he adds, "reminds me of a true story I heard in London recently. In the hospitals there, the ailment of the patient, when he is admitted, is denoted by certain letters, such as 'T. B.' for tuberculosis. An American doctor was examining these history slips when his curiosity was aroused by the number on which the letters 'G. O. K.' appeared. He said to the physician who was showing him around:

"There seems to be a severe epidemic of this G. O. K. in London. What is it, anyhow?"

"Oh, that means 'God only knows,'" replied the English physician.—Open Door.

MARIAN COLE FISHER

A National Authority on the Subject of PURE FOODS and the ART OF COOKING.

In a recent interview on baking powder stated as follows: "I find many, in fact, very many, women woefully uninformed on the subject of baking powder. Evidently the housewife does not appreciate the value of baking powder in her kitchen and in her baking, or she would have informed herself. This is a subject that is quite important. A great many of the housewives today have followed their mothers or grandmothers in the use of baking powder, which in some instances is a mistake. There has been just as much improvement in baking powder as in other commodities. I am glad to find that baking powder has kept up with the times. Some housewives have been led to believe that the cream of tartar powders are the best goods to use. This is a mistake, resulting no doubt from the constant efforts of the Twenty Million Dollar Baking Powder Trust to create a prejudice against all goods save their own. Their goods should be least desirable on account of the large quantities of Rochelle Salts remaining in the food. The other extreme is the cheap and 'Big Can' baking powders, which sell all the way from ten cents a pound to a cent an ounce. These are even less desirable than the high-priced goods. I can say nothing in their favor. They are never economical, frequently leaving the baking bleached and acid; sometimes yellow and alkaline, and often unpalatable. They are not dependable and represent false economy at any price. The most simple way for the housewife to class baking powder is by price. The trust goods that retail for 45c or 50c a pound are usually the cream of tartar powders, and are of the old school; and the cheap and 'Big Can' kind that sell all the way from 10c a pound up to a cent an ounce should also be avoided. The last word in baking powder is the happy medium, a combination powder that sells at a moderate price and when properly prepared gives the consumer full value for the money. The result in baking is pure, wholesome food, without any harmful residue. There is no reason why any housewife should pay 45c or 50c per pound. The best baking powder made can be manufactured so as to retail at about 1/2 this price. On being asked what baking powder she used in her work, Marian Cole Fisher frankly stated that for more than seven years she had used Calumet Baking Powder with the most satisfactory results in every particular.

NEW YORK POLITICS.

Opposition to the nomination of District Attorney Whitman by the lesser leaders of the progressive party of New York state, will not prevent the rank and file of progressives from supporting Mr. Whitman if nominated by the regular republicans, in the opinion of Representative Luther W. Mott of Oswego Mr. Mott believes the district attorney will be nominated and elected and that the efforts of the progressives to induce Colonel Roosevelt to become a candidate will be ineffective.

"Those men who call themselves progressives who are urging the colonel to run for governor are not so anxious for the party or the colonel as they are for themselves," said Mr. Mott. "I am confident there will be only two leading candidates in the gubernatorial campaign this fall, a republican and a democrat. The great majority of the rank and file of the progressives will support Whitman, and I believe Colonel Roosevelt himself will eventually come out for the district attorney. The trouble with those who are striving to prevent the getting together of the republicans and progressives is, they see in this eventually their own eclipse as party leaders. They would rather continue to be conspicuous in defeat than to take place as subordinates in the older organization. The privates in the ranks do not care about the differences of the so-called leaders. They are tired of democratic misrule and disgusted with the administration that promised so much and has done so little."

"If Colonel Roosevelt declines to mix up actively in the New York campaign and does as he has outlined, that is, go into Pennsylvania, California and other states, leaving New York to take care of itself, there is no question about the result. The republicans will win. Colonel Roosevelt, in my opinion, will be the nominee of the republicans in 1916 if he declines to be drawn into the progressive fight in New York, which I think he will."

WEEKLY SAVING PLAN.

This seems to be a very good idea. The object of the plan is threefold—

1. To demonstrate to depositors that in a year they can make 52 regular weekly deposits of at least a certain sum—no matter how small.

2. To show them that by adhering to their resolutions for 52 weeks they form a habit, through which it will be easier for them to keep on saving than to stop.

3. To acquire a cash capital with which to grasp opportunity, realize an ambition or be ready for sudden and unusual necessity.

The advantages of such a method of building up a reserve fund are brought out, by implication, in these words of a banker in Lompoc Valley of California, who says:

"The past two years, particularly the last one, have been what we call 'short' years in this valley. The rainfall was below the average and consequently the crops were short. For several years previous to 1912, our crops were exceptionally good, and everyone seemed to feel that this condition would continue indefinitely. Instead of paying off their mortgages and other indebtedness, a great many have added to their land holdings, bought automobiles, etc. So, when the short years came they were unprepared."

A systematic method of saving is of benefit not only to farmers, wage-earners and salaried persons, but business men would do well to consider it seriously as a plan to build up reserve capital.

Those who have "arrived" are as likely to need an emergency or opportunity fund as are their employees.

Any business man, personally, may have need of a little extra private capital some day, available in cash, outside of his business, unknown to others and ready for any call.

Build a personal reserve. Have a business reserve, too. Don't argue that you can use the money to better advantage in your business. A reserve fund may be your financial salvation some day.

Don't say you will save weekly after you have "caught up" in expenses, for saving week by week is the best way to catch up.

You will never earn enough money to spend all you want before you begin to save anything.

THE EPILEPTIC COLONY.

On Monday the men and women who owned the land that was selected by the state board of administration as best suited for the uses of a state epileptic colony will get their vouchers for the money, and will turn over their deeds to the state of Illinois. It will be the closing incident of one of the greatest happenings that ever befell our fair city.

We will be in a better position to realize the full benefit it will bring us when building activities get under full swing at the colony. Probably three hundred men will be needed there for at least two years to complete the two hundred brick cottages and the administration building, superintendent's home, and other necessary buildings, not to speak of the road building, landscape gardening and other Herculean tasks that confront the builders.

This, coupled with the normal amount of work that will be going on in this city, will give Dixon a big start up the hill. By the time the work is completed there will be new fields of endeavor opened to us and new prizes to be won.

Given a fair show and normal conditions, the wheels of progress will continue to grind out prosperity and happiness in Dixon in ever increasing quantities as long as enterprise and vigor live in the hearts of the citizens of Dixon.

The other day in Washington President Wilson kissed the little ten-year-old girl who had come with her parents to meet the President. There he goes now, campaigning already, and using such an old-fashioned system, too.

The Glorious Fourth is to be more glorious than ever, for it comes on Saturday and gives us a double holiday. The poor, down-trodden "prints" will get a rest, a much-needed rest.

The Dying Tree
BY WALT MASON

Ah, it is saddening to see a beautiful and stately tree in process of decay, it took long years to reach its height, and then there fell a deadly blight that ate its heart away. It seems to know it's in the soup, for all its leaves and branches droop, 'tis a despairing thing; and in the zephyr or the gale it seems to moan and sigh and wall, when it should dance and sing. There's nothing nobler than a tree, there's naught that more appeals to me, and oh, it makes me hot, to think such stately things must die, because some derved old worm or fly has given it dry rot. And in our towns a million trees are dying of some punk disease imparted in that way; great elms that pleased our pas and mas are crumbling to the ground because such pests we do not slay.

A little hustling out of doors might save the threatened sycamores, the locusts and the elms; so let us gird our loins today, and spray our friends the trees, and slay the worm that over-whelms. If you would sit supinely by, and see a splendid shade tree die, and never lift a hand, if you would raise no doleful sound, when trees are dying all around, you surely should be canned.

SHERIFF'S OFFICE MAKES STATEMENT

REGARDING ALLEGED BRUTAL TREATMENT OF MRS. AD-AM GABINA.

In regard to the article in this paper of last evening of the arrest of Adam Gabina and wife, the Sheriff's office wishes to make the statement: "James Harvey was not employed by this office to secure evidence of any kind nor act in any capacity as an officer. He simply was securing evidence on his own complaint. He had made a complaint that his boys, who are under age, were buying beer at these places, and Mr. Merrill was sent along to satisfy the Sheriff that these violations were taking place. If any violence were offered this lady, they were not done with the sanction of the Sheriff or any of his officers and should Mr. Harvey be guilty of such an offense, he should be punished; but from the evidence that the Sheriff has been able to gather the not being there at the time Mr. Harvey is accused of assault, he does not believe that anything of the kind happened, in the least particular."

The sheriff's officials conscientiously endeavoring to preserve order and endeavoring to maintain the law and relies upon the sense of fair-play of right-minded citizens of this community to so far assist him in his efforts on their behalf as to discountenance reckless and groundless criticism.

The Sandusky Portland Cement company assists the officials to the limit of its ability in controlling these people, but the majority of them live off the company's property, thus the company has no control or knowledge of their doings (Signed). J. C. P. REID, Sheriff.

OILING HIGHWAYS IN BUREAU COUNTY

Bureau County Republican of Princeton:—The highway leading from the city limits of Princeton to the Bureau Valley Country Club it to be improved and oiled. Alfred Norris, representing the country club, put through a deal last week by which the road commissioners of Princeton Township will pay half the cost provided the other half is raised by subscription. The approximate cost is said to be about $500. The committee of which Mr. Norris is the chairman raised over $130 in a few hours after the paper was put in circulation and the remainder of the $250 to be raised by subscription is said to be in sight. Each member of the country club, who drives an automobile, will be asked to contribute five dollars, and residents along the route will be asked to help defray the cost of the improvement. The private drive that leads from the main road to the club house has already been oiled. A stretch two miles long has been oiled on the Peru road from the city limits east to the Elliott school house on the same terms. Thomas Jensen, one of the commissioners, stated yesterday that the township will pay half the cost in any neighborhood where the property owners will agree to oil a mile or more in a stretch. In response to this offer, residents along the Tiskilwa road from the city limits to George Green's residence, a distance of two miles, have agreed to oil. The question of electric lights between Princeton and Tiskilwa was discussed by the highway commissioners Monday night.

Pesquera, Carranza's confidential agent here.

Pesquera also stated that Villa has ordered the return of about 1,000,000 pesos to the Carranza treasury. Pesquera added that both Villa and Carranza have improved the understanding between them by removing certain political intrigues by whom they were surrounded.

Princeton Graduate Is Accused of Slaying Farmer.

ANGER ONLY MOTIVE KNOWN

George W. Potter, Prominently Connected in Central New York, Involved in Confession of Employee—Charged With Attempt to Kill Daughter of Victim.

Amsterdam, N. Y., June 27.—Geo. W. Potter, Princeton graduate, son of former County Judge Potter of Otsego county, and son-in-law of Andrew J. Nellis of Albany, one of the most prominent of central New York lawyers, was placed under arrest here by Sheriff Kurlbaum of Montgomery county, charged with the murder of John Barrett, a wealthy retired farmer, at his home near Fonda on Sunday morning, Dec. 20, 1913. The arrest grew out of a confession made by Louis Roach, an employee of Potter, who states that he assisted Mr. Potter in the crime. Roach is also under arrest.

Anger Alleged as Motive.

The only motive given for the crime is that Potter, who has a farm next to the small place of Barrett, had some trivial trouble with his neighbor over a well. According to the confession of Roach, he and Potter went to the Barrett home on the morning in question, shortly after midnight and found Katherine Barrett, a twenty-one-year-old daughter, asleep in the chair. Roach struck her over the head with a piece of firewood and left her for dead. The confession goes on to say that the father, over sixty, was roused from his slumber in an upper room and hurried below to see what was causing the commotion. As he came down the narrow stairway, according to Roach, he was shot and instantly killed by Potter, who entered the front door as his hired man came in through the kitchen.

Set Fire to House.

After the supposed double killing, the confession continues, the men set fire to the house hoping thus to cover up the tracks of their crime. An imbecile boy, sleeping up stairs, came down and, under the direction of his sister, who recovered consciousness, extinguished the blaze that had been started in the kitchen. It was mainly through the coroner's efforts that the arrests were brought about.

DEATH IS DEPLETING JUDICIARY OF ILLINOIS

Three Vacancies to Fill, But Candidates Are Numerous.

Decatur, Ill., June 27.—Judge W. C. Johns, for more than eleven years judge of the circuit court of the Sixth judicial district of Illinois, died in San Francisco Thursday after being in ill health several years.

His death leaves but one circuit judge, W. C. Cochran, in this district. At the time of his death Judge Johns was on his way to pass the summer in Honolulu with Rear Admiral Charles Moore, Mrs. Moore being his sister.

A primary is being held today to name candidates to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Judge Solon Philbrick. Judge Johns' place will be filled by appointment by Governor Dunne. A lively campaign for nominations to succeed the late Judge Philbrick is being waged by five candidates. The aspirants are: F. H. Boggs of Urbana, Republican; Judge F. M. Shonkwiler of Monticello, Republican; Dr. R. Enoch of Champaign, Democrat; J. L. Hicks of Monticello, Democrat; Elmer J. Hawbaker of Monticello, Progressive.

Springfield, Ill., June 27.—A. H. Bell of the firm of Bell & Burton of Carlinville, has become a candidate for circuit judge of the circuit comprising the counties of Sangamon, Morgan, Macoupin, Jersey, Greene and Scott, to succeed the late Judge Robert B. Shirley. Former County Judge J. B. Vaughn, Judge Truman A. Snell and City Attorney A. J. Duggan, all of Carlinville, are also candidates. Judge Thomas F. Ferns of Springfield is the Sangamon county candidate. The vacancy will be filled by appointment by Governor Dunne.

Pioneer Illinois Woman, Ninety, Dies. Vandalia, Ill., June 27.—Mrs. Amanda Henninger, aged ninety, one of the pioneer settlers of Fayette county, died at her home in Hagerstown, west of Vandalia. Rev. J. W. Henninger of Bloomington, Ill.; Trumbull Henninger of Catlin, Ill., and William Henninger of Kansas City, Mo., sons, and Mrs. A. C. Clark of Anthony, Kan., and Mrs. I. P. Clark of Decatur, Ill., daughters, survive.

PAID PRETTY TRIBUTE TO AMERICAN EMBASSY

SALVATION ARMY DELEGATES PARADED PAST AMERICAN LEGATION IN LONDON

DISPLAYED 'AMERICAN' FLAGS

Old Glory, However, Could Not Be Used Except On Orders From Washington

London, June 27.—The American ambassador, Dr. Walter Hines Page, came near to being charged with lack of patriotism by the seven hundred American Salvation Army delegates on their official visit to him, but the misunderstanding was cleared by one of the embassy clerks.

The Salvationists made an American patriotic display on this occasion as has been rarely seen in London. Bands played American patriotic tunes, the American colors alternated with the Salvation Army banners and each of the paraders waved a small American flag as they marched through Victoria street past the window at which stood Dr. Page. The chief officers then paid a formal call on His Excellency. But in the matter of bunting, the Embassy might as well have been one of the big shops along side.

"Where is the American flag?" asked one of the officers in a grievous tone to one of the clerks. "Our parade was simply ablaze with 'Old Glory', and there isn't a single flag displayed at the Embassy to welcome us. It doesn't look patriotic."

The clerk explained that the flag of the embassy has purely ceremonial duties to perform rather than patriotic or ornamental, and is displayed only on instructions from the State Department at Washington.

This explanation was passed around and seemed to satisfy the patriotic scruples of the visitors.

On account of the comparatively small quarters, American diplomats without large private means necessarily maintain in foreign countries, Dr. Page was unable to invite the Salvationists to his home, and the embassy itself is likewise cramped. A reception in the street would have lacked dignity, so the delegates felt a disappointment in not being able to shake hands with him.

CANAL TERMINALS ARE REGULAR PORTS

STEAMSHIP LINES STOP SHIPS AT BALBOA AND CRISTOBAL

Panama, June 27.—The canal terminals at Balboa and Cristobal have now become regular ports of call for several steamship lines. Interruption of the Tehuantepec railway route across southern Mexico drove considerable shipping to these ports, but even now, with the Tehuantepec service reestablished there are many boats which continue to call at Balboa or Cristobal for transfer of cargo across the isthmus. The American-Hawaiian Steamship Company has gone back to the Mexican ports, but only until the canal is ready for regular use. The Elder & Fyfe Company however, which has hitherto had only an occasional service between Liverpool and Cristobal has now increased its service and is running regular steamships, and a Norwegian line of tramp steamers call regularly, while on the west coast Salvadorian Railway Steamship Line has been diverted from Mexican ports to Balboa.

It is understood also that steamers of a Japanese line will begin service to Balboa soon.

PREPARE LOCK-JAW SERUM

Edin, Ill., June 27.—Preparations for the usual number of accidents which occur from the careless handling of dangerous explosives in celebration of the Fourth of July, are being made. The city has secured and laid away, a limited supply of lock-jaw serum.

City Physician, Doctor A. L. Mann stated this morning that in his opinion there will be a few accidents this year. He bases his opinion upon the fact that the general public is waking up to the danger connected with the handling of explosives, and the careful inspection and supervision by the police over the sale and disposition of fire works.

PROLOGUE.

Mystery-detective-love story, all in one, and each of the three good—that's "The Secret of Lonesome Cove." There's more in this book; there's a very interesting example of the effect of the study of heredity on a man's mind.

If you are romantic, read it for the pretty love story; if you're fond of mystery-detective stories, find out how Chester Kent, clever, learned scientist and investigator, searched out the "secret." If psychology's in your line, here's a case of the influence of the past on the present that is worth looking into.

From the time of the finding of the handcuffed body of the dead woman on the beach until Chester Kent clears up the mystery and the patient artist-lover has his reward this tale is worth reading. It is one of the cleverest books of its well known author, Samuel Hopkins Adams.

CHAPTER I.

The Body on the Beach.

LONESOME COVE is one of the least frequented stretches on the New England seaboard. From the land side the sheer hundred foot drop of Hawkill cliffs shuts it off. There is no settlement near the cove. The somber reputation suggested by its name has served to keep cottagers from building on the wildly beautiful uplands that overbrood the beach. The straggling pathways along the edge afford the only suggestion of human traffic within half a mile of the spot. A sharp cut ravine leads down to the sea by a rather treacherous descent.

Near the mouth of this opening a considerable gathering of folk speckled the usually deserted beach at noon of July 6. They centered on a dark object a few yards within the flood tide limit. Some scouted about, peering at the sand. Others pointed first to the sea, then to the cliffs.

From some distance away a lone man of a markedly different type from the others observed them with an expression of displeasure. One of the group presently detached himself and ambled over to the newcomer.

"Swanny," he ejaculated, "if it ain't Professor Kent! Didn't know you at first under them whiskers. You remember me, don't you? I used to drive you around when you were here before."

"I've just come out of the woods, Jarvis. And as you have some very interesting sea currents just here, I thought I'd have a look at them. Nobody really knows anything about coast currents, you know. Now my opportunity is spoiled."

"Spolt? I guess not. You couldn't have come at a better time," said the local man eagerly.

"Ah, but you see, I had planned to swim out to the eddy and make some personal observations."

"You was going to swim into Dead Man's eddy?" asked the other, agast.

"Why, professor, you must have turned foolish. They ain't a man on this coast would take a chance like that."

"Superstition," retorted the other curtly. "On a still day such as this there would be no danger to an experienced swimmer. The conditions are ideal except for this crowd. What is it? Has the village gone picnicking?"

"Not scarcely! Ain't you heard? Another one's come in through the eddy. Lies over yonder."

Professor Kent's eyebrows went up as he glanced toward the indicated spot; then gathered in a frown.

"Not washed up there, surely?" he said.

"Some time early this morning."

"Pshaw!" said the other, turning to look at the curving bulwark of rocks over which the soft swell was barely breaking. "If it were the other end of the cove, now, I could understand it."

"Yes," agreed Jarvis, "they mostly come in at the other end on this tide."

"Mostly? Always." The professor's tone was positive. "Unless my charts are wrong. But this—well, it spoils at least one phase of my theory."

"Theory?" exclaimed the liverman, his pale eyes alight. "You got a theory? But I thought you didn't know anything about the body till I told you just now."

"Oh, my ruined theory has reference to the currents," sighed the other. "It has nothing to do with dead men as such."

"This is a dead woman. Come and see for yourself."

suggested somebody in the crowd.

"Tell you who did if he didn't," said another man.

"Who, then?"

"Elder Iry Dennett. Didn't none of you hear about his meetin' up with a strange woman yestiddy evenin'?"

"Shucks! This couldn't be that woman," said Jarvis. "How'd she come to be washed ashore from a wreck between last night and this morning?"

"How'd she come to be washed ashore from a wreck anyway?" countered Sailor Smith. "The ain't been no storm for a week, an' this body ain't been dead twenty-four hours."

"It plumb beats me," admitted Jarvis.

"Who is this Dennett?" asked Professor Kent.

"Iry? He's the town gab of Martindale Center. Does a little plumbin' a tinkerin' on the side. Just now he's up to Cadystown. Took the 10 o'clock train last night."

"Then it was early when he met this woman?"

"Little after sundown. He was risin' the hill beyond the Nook—that's Sedgwick's place, the painter feller—when she come out of the shrubbery—pop!

"How'd she come to be washed ashore?" countered Sailor Smith.

He quizzed her. Trust the elder for that. But he didn't get much out of her until he mentioned the Nook. Then she allowed she guessed she'd go there. An' he watched her go.

"You say a man named Sedgwick lives at the Nook, is that Francis Sedgwick the artist?" asked Kent.

"That's him," said Sailor Smith. "Paints right purty pictures. Lives there all alone with a Chinese cook."

"Well, the lady went down the hill," continued Jarvis, "just as Sedgwick come out to smoke a pipe on this stone wall. Iry thought he seemed surprised when she bespoke him. They passed a few remarks, an' then they had some words an' the lady laughed loud an' kinder scornful. He seemed to be pointin' at a necklace of queer, fiery pink stones that she wore and tryin' to get somethin' out of her. She turned away an' he started to follow, when all of a sudden she grabbed up a rock an' let him have it—blip! Keeked him clean over. Then she ran away up the road toward Hawkill cliffs."

"Well, this corpse ain't got no pink necklace," suggested somebody.

"Bodies sometimes get robbed," said Sailor Smith.

Chester Kent stooped over the writhen face, again peering close. Then he straightened up and began pulling thoughtfully at the lobe of his ear.

"Say," said Sailor Smith, "what's them queer little marks on the neck under the ear?"

Back came Kent's eyes. "Those?" he said, smiling. "Why, those are, one might suppose, such indentations as would be made in flesh by forcing a jewel setting violently against it by a blow or strong impact."

"Then you think it was the woman?" began the old seaman when several voices broke in:

"There goes Len now!"

The sheriff's heavy figure appeared on the brow of the cliff, moving toward the village.

"Who is it with him?" inquired Kent.

"Gansett Jim," answered Jarvis.

"An Indian?"

"Gosh! You got good eyes!" said Jarvis. "He's more Indian than anything else. Comes from down Ananissett way and gets his name from it."

"H-m! When did he arrive?"

"While you was trapesin' around up yonder."

"Did he see the body?"

"Yep. Just after the sheriff got whatever it was from the pocket Gansett Jim hove in sight. Len went over to him quick, an' said somethin' to him. He come and give a look at the body. But he didn't say nothing. Only grunted. The sheriff tells me to watch the body. Then he says, 'An' I'll need somebody to help me. I'll take you, Jim.' So he an' the Indian goes away together."

Professor Kent nodded. He looked seaward where the reefs were now baring their teeth more plainly through the racing currents, and he sighed. Then he bade the group farewell and set off up the beach.

"He's a sort of a harmless scientific crank," explained Jarvis; "comes from Washington; something to do with the government work."

"Kinder loony, I think," conjectured a little, thin, piping man. "Musses and moves around like it."

"Is that so?" said Sailor Smith, who still had his eyes fixed on the scarified neck. "Well, I ain't no too dum sure that he's as big a fool as some folks I know that thinks likelier of themselves. He seen there was somethin' queer about that rope, an' he ast me about the knots, right off."

Possibly the one supporter of the absent would have wavered in his loyalty had he seen the trove that Professor Chester Kent had carried unostentatiously from the beach, in his pocket, after picking it from the grating. It was the fuzzy cocoon of a small and quite unimportant insect. The Washington scientist, seated on a bowlder opened up the cocoon with absorbed interest, pricked it until the impotent inmate wriggled in protest, and then cast it aside to perish.

Between the roadway and the broad front lawn of the Nook a four foot, rough stone wall interposes. Looking up from his painting, Francis Sedgwick beheld in the glare of the afternoon sun a spare figure rise alertly upon the wall, descend to the road and rise again. He stepped to the open window and watched a curious progress. A scrubby bearded man clad in serviceable khaki was performing a stunt, with the wall as a basis. He was walking from east to west quite fast and every third pace stepping upon the wall; stepping, Sedgwick duly noted, not jumping, the change of level being made without visible effort.

Leaning out of the window he called: "Hello, there!"

"Good afternoon," said the stranger, in a quiet, cultivated voice.

"Would you mind telling me what you are doing on my wall?"

"Not in the least," replied the bearded man, rising buoyantly into full view and subsiding again with the rhythm of a wave.

"Well, what are you doing?"

"Taking a little exercise."

By this time, having reached the end of the wall, he turned and came back, making the step with his right leg instead of his left. Sedgwick hurried downstairs and out into the roadway. The stranger continued his performance silently.

"Do you do that often?" he asked presently.

The gymnast paused, poised like a Mercury on the high coping. "Yes," said he, "otherwise I shouldn't be able to do it at all. It is in pursuance of a theory of self defense."

"What in the world has wall hopping to do with self defense?"

"I shall expound," said the stranger in professional tones, taking a seat by the unusual method of letting himself down on one leg while holding the other at right angles to his body. "Do you know anything of jujutsu?"

"Very little."

"In common with most Americans. For that reason alone the Japanese system is highly effective here, not so effective in Japan. You perceive there the basis of my theory."

"No; I don't perceive it at all."

"A system of defense is effective in proportion to its unfamiliarity. That is all."

"Then your system consists in stepping up on a wall and diving into obscurity on the farther side perhaps," suggested Sedgwick ironically.

"Defense, I said, not escape. Escape is perhaps preferable to defense, but not always so practicable. No; the wall merely served as a temporary gymnasium while I was waiting for you."

"You have distinctly the advantage of me," said Sedgwick, with a frown, for he was in no mood to welcome strange visitors.

"To return to my theory of self defense," said the other importunately. "My wall exercise serves to keep limber and active certain muscles that in the average man are half atrophied."

He rose on one foot with an ease that made the artist stare, descended, selected from the roadway a stone of ordinary cobble size and handed it to Sedgwick.

"Let that lie on the palm of your hand," said he, "and hold it out, waist high."

As he spoke he was standing two feet from the other to his right. Sedgwick did as he was requested. As his hand took position there was a twist of the bearded man's lithe body, a sharp click, and the stone, flying in a rising curve, swished through the leafage of a lilac fifty feet away.

"How do you do that?" cried the artist.

The other showed a slight indentation on the inside of his right boot heel and then swung his right foot slowly and steadily up behind his left knee and let it lapse into position again. "At shoulder height," he explained, "I could have done the same, but it would have broken your hand."

"I see," said the other, adding with distaste, "but to kick an opponent! Why, even as a boy I was taught!"

"We were not speaking of child's play," said the visitor coolly, "nor am I concerned with the rules of the prize-ring as applied to my theory. When one is in danger one uses knife or gun, if at hand. I prefer a less deadly and more effective weapon. Kicking aside, either to the front or to the rear, I can disarm a man, break his leg or lay him senseless. It is the special development of such muscles as the sartorius and plantaris. I owe you this explanation. I hope you won't prosecute for trespass, Mr. Long Lean-Leggy Sedgwick."

BACKACHE IS A WARNING

Dixon People Should Not Neglect Their Kidneys.

Backache is often nature's most frequent signal of weakened kidneys. To relieve the pains and aches, to remove the lameness when it arises from weakened kidneys, you must reach the cause—the kidneys. If you have pain through the small of your back, urinary disorders, headaches, dizzy spells, or are nervous and depressed, start treating the kidneys with a tested kidney remedy.

Doan's kidney Pills have been proved good and are especially for weak kidneys. Doan's have been used in kidney trouble for over 50 years. Here is convincing proof of merit. It comes from this locality:

Mrs. J. H. Boehn, 906 Fourth Ave., Sterling, Ill., says: "We have used Doan's Kidney Pills off and on for years, and think they are the best kidney remedy to be had. Although I never had occasion to use Doan's Kidney Pills myself, I can confirm the public statement I gave some years ago, in their favor. One of the family had trouble from his back and kidneys. The kidney action was irregular and his back hurt him. Finally, he used Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at Perry's Drug Store, and they gave him relief."

The above is an isolated case. Mrs. Boehn is only one of many in this vicinity who have gratefully endorsed Doan's. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Boehn recommends. 50c all stores, Foster, Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. ## ADALBERT MAY VISIT AMERICA

Kaiser's Third Son Possible Canal Opening Guest.

Berlin, June 27.—Prince Adalbert, the Kaiser's third son, is to be promoted very shortly to the rank of corvette captain, according to reports in naval circles. His objection to being jumped over the head of other officers in line for promotion is all that has stood in the way of higher rank having been given Prince Adalbert some time ago.

One of the reasons that the Kaiser wants soon to advance him another grade is said to be the fact that he may send Adalbert to participate in the formal opening of the Panama canal.

ANOTHER MAN IN TRAGEDY

COMPLAIN OF ROCK ISLAND

Keokuk and Des Moines Railway Stockholders Ask for Millions.

New York, June 27.—A suit for an injunction and for damages aggregating more than $5,000,000 was filed in the supreme court against the Chicago, Rock Island &amp; Pacific railway company by the preferred stockholders of the Keokuk and Des Moines Railway company, a leased line, in which charges of gross mismanagement, failure to pay the income due, diversion of traffic and waste of property are made against the Rock Island management. The plaintiffs allege finally that the Rock Island is pursuing a course which has for its object the ruin of the Keokuk and Des Moines in favor of the St. Paul and Kansas City Short Line, which the Rock Island is now building to parallel the Keokuk and Des Moines in alleged violation of the laws of Iowa.

THE DIXON ROTARY LAWN MOWER

"DIXON"

THE LIGHT RUNNING, HEAVY DUTY LAWN MOWER.

Guaranteed Equal to the Best Made.

Made in Dixon. Boost! It is Dixon. Every lawn in Dixon should have a mower on it. Your dealer should have them. If he has not got them call us and we will supply you.

We wish to draw your attention to a few of the improvements in the Dixon Lawn Mower over all other makes.

First, to the floating bed knife bar which is swiveled on the rod that ties the back end of the mower securely together, and, with the other tie rod at the front makes the most rigid frame to be found in lawn mowers.

You will notice at each back corner of the bed knife a compression spring. These press the cutting edge of the bed knife up against the reel, or revolving knife, always adjusting itself.

We make the Dixon with a thrust ball bearing which is the same as is used in automobiles, making it the best.

The knives throughout are crucible steel. The lower bed knife is crucible hip steel.

The Dixon Mower will cut heavy grass without raising the handle and without lifting up behind and clogging.

KATHRYN'S COURTSHIP

By IZOLA FORRESTER.

Kathryn never glanced to right or left, passing through the long rotunda of the hotel.
Ahead of her was her mother, personally conducted,
as usual, by hall
boys and three maids. There had been the usual argument about the
dogs, the usual argument about the
southern exposure
and the maids' rates.
Kathryn hated
every little detail
of it. She had heard it all over Europe, and now they were back in New York after two years, it would be just the same. There would be several hours of talk after they were settled in their room, all the old reproaches would be gone over, and their experiences, and the alarming decrease quarterly in the income from the west.
It would end with the passionate declaration that the fate of the whole family was in Kathryn's hands, and if she didn't marry money pretty soon, something would snap under the strain.

"Let it snap," Kit would say, calmly.
"Nobody wants this mad whirl but you, mumsie. I'd be perfectly contented to stay out home where we belong. You're using up every last cent Uncle Peter left us trying to marry me off, and I won't be a speculation for anybody. I want to fall in love. I want to have every last earthly thrill that all the poets have gone mad about. Isn't there anything in it at all? Weren't you in love, mumsie?"

"Heaven help me, yes, my dear, I was," Mrs. Burroughs would say with portentous warning. "You know Punch's advice. I would change it. He said to persons about to be married.
"Don't." I say to persons about to fall in love, "Don't." Love is nature's trap.
I think I may safely say that civilization has built a protected right of way roundabout it. Do you know why I am taking you to the Langhorne?"

Kit glanced up from her pile of mail.
There was a curious light in her eyes,
a little happy smile hovering on her lips.
"I don't care where we go so long as we're back in New York again."

"Prince Waldemar preceded us by one boat. He will be here for six months, right here, Kit, at this same hotel, and you know he was perfectly mad about you. He trailed us all over Europe last winter—"

"Yes, he did. Why? Because you and old Lady Varie spread the report that we were awfully rich, and he was after the money. He wouldn't have cared, mumsie, whether it had been you or myself, just as long as he got a good grip on poor dad's gold sacks.
I've just had a letter from Ben and he's coming east on some business deal."

"Kathryn, shall you see him here, Ben Colby?"

Kathryn nodded her head amusedly.

"Right here, bless him, and won't I be glad to see him after the varied assortment of men we've been treated to on the continent? Mumsie, you would never be cross with Ben. Why, he's been with us ever since we had the old lodging shack for the boys up above the mines ten years ago."

Ben arrived the week after they crossed the ocean. Mrs. Burroughs had gone calling with the prince.

"Oh, Ben, I wish you'd been with me," she said, holding both of her hands out to his eager grasp.

"Lord, it's good to look at you, Kit.
They haven't spoiled you, have they?
Do you mind my coming to see you?"

"If you hadn't, Ben Colby, just if you hadn't!" she laughed back.

"Where are you stopping?"

"Why, er—with friends," said Ben guardedly. "Seems good to see the old town."

"I didn't know you had been here before."

"I lived here, about six years ago.
You know I left the camp twice to come back east. That was when it was."

"It's a bit different now, girlie, though. I've struck it rich out yonder. You know the old claims, 20 of them, that went with the Creighton deal, and everybody laughed at me for buying. Well, it looks like radium.
I'm not letting go of my interests.
They've formed a company, and paid
cash so far. Will you be my partner, Kit?"

And Kit looked up at the dear boyish face that she had dreamt of on the other side, and carried in her heart of hearts. Somehow it all seemed part of the Maytime, and the tender green around them, and the calling birds everywhere. Would she go back to Nevada? Ben caught the look in her eyes, and right there he took her in his arms.

Kit was dressing for dinner when
Mrs. Burroughs came back from a tea.
"My dear," she began, meaningly,
"my dear, I have news. I heard this afternoon at Mrs. Cruger Colby's that Ben Colby is her grandson. He threw up society and went out west for fun and adventure. Now he's made a fortune, she says. I do hope, dear heart, that you have not written anything
hasty or unkind to dear old Ben."

"Mumsie, you precious fraud, you," laughed Kit. "You're a dear old weather vane, and I can look right through you. I told Ben I'd marry him this afternoon."

THIS IS CHERRY WEEK

Get good cherries then come to the Dixon Grocery Co., and get the White Crown Fruit Jar Caps. They fit any Mason
Jar. No metal of any kind comes in contact with the fruit.
You do not have to buy fruit jar covers again once you buy the White Crown. Nothing to wear out or eaten by acid.
They only cost 5c per dozen more than the old Boyd caps that you have to buy each year.

Canada prohibits by law the sale of Zinc Caps for canning fruit. The Pure Food Commission of the U. S. recommends that they should not be used. Why use them when the White Crown is cheaper in several years of use. They sell for 35 cts.
per dozen for caps and rubbers.
